

JPMorgan Chinese Investment Trust plc

Monthly Update as at 31 August 2017

Management Commentary

The trust outperformed the benchmark during the month, driven by positive stock selection and country allocation. Apple supply chain holdings added value on the back of the iPhone product cycle, namely AAC Technologies and Goertek (A-share). Strong earnings results also contributed to positive stock performance for the analogue semiconductor designer Silergy. In addition, not owning Netease helped returns, as the company enters a relatively quiet period for new games. Meanwhile, select consumer holdings detracted from performance. JD.com fell due to bigger-than-expected margin declines and negative sentiment from Alibaba's intention to increase spending in the business-to-consumer market. Nexteer Automotive, manufacturer of electric powered steering systems, was negatively impacted by weak topline growth and IMAX China saw disappointing box office returns. Among financials, the position in Noah detracted on some profit-taking despite better-than-expected results. Finally, a zero weight in large bank ICBC also negatively impacted as the latest results pointed to an operational turnaround.

JPMorgan Chinese Investment Trust plc

SECTOR BREAKDOWN AS AT 30 SEPTEMBER 2017 ⁶

The Trust is an actively managed portfolio, holdings, sector weights, allocations and leverage, as applicable are subject to change at the discretion of the Investment Manager without notice.

RISK INFORMATION

- Exchange rate changes may cause the value of underlying overseas investments to go down as well as up.
- Investments in emerging markets may involve a higher element of risk due to political and economic instability and underdeveloped markets and systems. Shares may also be traded less frequently than those on established markets. This means that there may be difficulty in both buying and selling shares and individual share prices may be subject to short-term price fluctuations.
- This fund may use derivatives for investment purposes or for efficient portfolio management.
- External factors may cause an entire asset class to decline in value. Prices and values of all shares or all bonds could decline at the same time, or fluctuate in response to the performance of individual companies and general market conditions.
- This trust may utilise gearing (borrowing) which will exaggerate market movements both up and down.
- This trust may also invest in smaller companies which may increase its risk profile.
- The share price may trade at a discount to the Net Asset Value of the company.
- The single market in which the Trust primarily invests, in this case China, may be subject to particular political and economic risks and, as a result, the trust may be more volatile than more broadly diversified trusts.
- The Trust may invest in China A-Shares through the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect program which is subject to regulatory change, quota limitations and also operational constraints which may result in increased counterparty risk.

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

BENCHMARK COMPARISON - Comparison of the Company's performance is made with the benchmark. The benchmark is a recognised index of stocks which should not be taken as wholly representative of the Company's investment universe. The Company's investment strategy does not follow or track this index and therefore there may be a degree of divergence between its performance and that of the Company.

CASH - Net current assets including investment in liquidity funds & treasury stocks (if held) and drawn revolving credit facilities (if any) with an original maturity of less than 1 year.

DISCOUNT / PREMIUM - If the share price of an investment company is lower than the net asset value (NAV) per share, the company is said to be trading at a discount. If the share price of an investment company is higher than the net asset value (NAV) per share, the company is said to be trading at a premium. The discount/premium is shown as a percentage of the NAV.

GEARING - Gearing represents the excess amount above shareholders' funds of total assets expressed as a percentage of the shareholders' funds. Total assets include total investments and net current assets/liabilities less cash/cash equivalents and excluding bank loans of less than one year. If the amount calculated is negative this is known as a 'net cash' position.

SECTOR / GEOGRAPHICAL BREAKDOWNS - These are expressed as a percentage of total portfolio and cash. Investments in liquidity funds will be shown as cash.

TOP 10 HOLDINGS - These are expressed as a percentage of total portfolio and cash. Investments in liquidity funds / treasury stocks will not be shown in the top 10 holdings.
