

JPMorgan Russian Securities plc

Monthly Update as at 31 May 2018

Management Commentary

The trust outperformed the benchmark in April. Stock selection in the energy sector contributed, specifically led by our exposure to index heavyweight Rosneft, an integrated energy company, as shares rose on the announcement of a 50% net income payout to shareholders. Stock selection in the telecommunications sector also added to relative returns, most notably driven by lack of exposure to Mobile TeleSystems, the largest mobile operator in Russia. Meanwhile, our lack of exposure to Magnit, Russia's largest food retailer, weighed on relative returns as the stock outperformed, with first-quarter 2018 results that beat analysts' expectations. We will remain underweight in this name and will revisit our decision once the restructuring period for the company is complete. Stock selection in the materials sector also struggled, primarily due to our exposure to Rusal, targeted by the new US sanctions. We sold our position to comply with the requirement for investors to divest of all assets related to the company by May 7th. Despite a pickup in volatility, emerging markets stocks have outperformed their developed market counterparts in the year-to-date. The dollar and growth trends in place justify this rotation in leadership, in our view, but we must remind investors that bumps in the road are inevitable.

JPMorgan Russian Securities plc

SECTOR BREAKDOWN AS AT 31 MAY 2018 ⁶

The Trust is an actively managed portfolio, holdings, sector weights, allocations and leverage, as applicable are subject to change at the discretion of the Investment Manager without notice.

RISK INFORMATION

- Exchange rate changes may cause the value of underlying overseas investments to go down as well as up.
- Investments in emerging markets may involve a higher element of risk due to political and economic instability and underdeveloped markets and systems. Shares may also be traded less frequently than those on established markets. This means that there may be difficulty in both buying and selling shares and individual share prices may be subject to short-term price fluctuations.
- The fund typically invests in a concentrated portfolio of investments and should a particular investment decline in value, this will have a pronounced effect on the overall value of the fund.
- External factors may cause an entire asset class to decline in value. Prices and values of all shares or all bonds could decline at the same time, or fluctuate in response to the performance of individual companies and general market conditions.
- This trust may utilise gearing (borrowing) which will exaggerate market movements both up and down.
- This trust may also invest in smaller companies which may increase its risk profile.
- The share price may trade at a discount to the Net Asset Value of the company.
- The single market in which the Trust primarily invests, in this case Russia, may be subject to particular political and economic risks and, as a result, the trust may be more volatile than more broadly diversified trusts.

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

BENCHMARK COMPARISON - Comparison of the Company's performance is made with the benchmark. The benchmark is a recognised index of stocks which should not be taken as wholly representative of the Company's investment universe. The Company's investment strategy does not follow or track this index and therefore there may be a degree of divergence between its performance and that of the Company.

CASH - Net current assets including investment in liquidity funds & treasury stocks (if held) and drawn revolving credit facilities (if any) with an original maturity of less than 1 year.

DISCOUNT / PREMIUM - If the share price of an investment company is lower than the net asset value (NAV) per share, the company is said to be trading at a discount. If the share price of an investment company is higher than the net asset value (NAV) per share, the company is said to be trading at a premium. The discount/premium is shown as a percentage of the NAV.

GEARING - Gearing represents the excess amount above shareholders' funds of total assets expressed as a percentage of the shareholders' funds. Total assets include total investments and net current assets/liabilities less cash/cash equivalents and excluding bank loans of less than one year. If the amount calculated is negative this is known as a 'net cash' position.

SECTOR / GEOGRAPHICAL BREAKDOWNS - These are expressed as a percentage of total portfolio and cash. Investments in liquidity funds will be shown as cash.

TOP 10 HOLDINGS - These are expressed as a percentage of total portfolio and cash. Investments in liquidity funds / treasury stocks will not be shown in the top 10 holdings.

Neither Morningstar nor its content providers are responsible for any damages or losses arising from any use of this information. Past performance is no guarantee of future results.

^BPrior 01/11/16 the benchmark was MSCI Russian 10/40 Equity Indices Index (£). Prior to 01/11/06 the benchmark was CSFB ROS Index.

^CNAV is the cum income only NAV with debt at par, diluted for treasury and/or subscription shares if applicable. Share price performance figures are calculated on a mid market basis in GBP with income reinvested on the ex-dividend date. The performance of the company's portfolio, or NAV performance, is not the same as share price performance and shareholders may not realise returns which are the same as NAV performance.

^DProspective dividend yield is indicative and based on mid market prices, and include the declared and net prospective dividends for the current financial year.

^EGearing represents the excess amount above shareholders' funds of total investments (excluding liquidity fund holdings) expressed as a percentage of the shareholders' funds. If the amount calculated is negative, this is known as a "net cash" position.

^FOngoing charges are the management fee and all other operating expenses, excluding interest charges on any borrowing and any performance fee payable expressed as a percentage of the average daily net assets during the year. All figures are for the previous financial year.

^GNon-Benchmark holdings (where held) are classified in the appropriate sector/region. Cash is net current assets and holdings used as cash substitutes if applicable.
